

This is the Hallsberg School of Music and Arts

We would like to tell you a little about our courses, fees, lessons and instrument rental. You can also find out how to get in touch with us.

The Hallsberg School of Music and Arts might be just what you've been looking for

We offer you the opportunity to play a musical instrument, either on your own or in an orchestra, sing solo or as part of a choir, or participate in a drama or art group.

Everyone on our staff has been educated as a teacher. Our goal is to inspire and challenge you, not only during lessons but in connection with concerts, performances, exhibitions and other activities.

We want to share the joy of creation and performance so you will continue to play music, act or make art into your adult years.

Lessons

We guarantee 12 lessons per semester but can frequently offer more.

Concerts and performances are an extra benefit.

A typical lesson lasts 15-20 minutes, perhaps longer if you are playing with other students. We also want you to have the chance to participate in an ensemble once a week.

The structure and length of a group course varies according to the subject. Feel free to contact us if you have questions about a specific course. The contact details for our teachers are available on the website.

When you are first admitted, you can try two lessons twice free of charge. Let us know before the third lesson if you don't wish to continue. Otherwise you will be charged the regular fee for the semester.

Instrument rental

You can rent a string or wind instrument from the School of Music and Arts as long as the supply lasts.

If you prefer to purchase an instrument, our teachers will be happy to provide you with advice and suggestions.

Student and Parent Association

The Hallsberg School of Music and Arts Student and Parent Association (HALKEFF) promotes student influence and plans fun activities. Find out more on our website. Do you want to get involved? Talk to your teacher.
